Dear Robert,

If you want a well-behaved, healthier, happier dog, then you need to read this letter! Do you love spoiling your pooch, respond to his every whimper and cry, and spend hundreds of dollars on him? But are you frustrated at your dog being generally disobedient? That's where I come in. I learned long ago the dog and puppy training secrets that work. Now I am going to share with you what I know.

When I was a kid, my best friend, Brad, lived next door to me. Throughout Brad's house there were pictures of his dad with all kinds of animals, mountain lions, armadillos, all kinds of crazy animals but mostly dogs... dogs of every imaginable size and breed. I wondered about the pictures but it was only after I started to ask questions I found out that Brad's dad had a really cool job. He was an animal trainer for Disney and had personally done dog training for hundreds of dogs! Therefore, it was no surprise to me that his dogs were the most well behaved dogs I have ever seen. Then one day it happened (after I had begged for what seemed like years!) my dad said I could get a puppy. I was so excited. The day we brought him home was the greatest day of my life. I named him "Lobo".

He was just a "mutt" but I loved him with all my heart.

But I soon found out that puppies can be quite unruly and that I had no clue where to start with puppy training. I tried and tried but I just had no idea what to do. Brad's dad noticed my struggle and he graciously offered his assistance.

I was elated!

My puppy would get dog obedience training from the greatest dog trainer in the world (at least in my eyes!) Soon, Lobo was doing everything I wanted him to do and more. He was doing tricks I hadn't even thought of before!

It was easy when I used the techniques that Brad's dad taught me.

What was really great is that Brad's dad showed me what to do but I did all of it. I trained Lobo all by myself with just some easy instructions from Brad's dad. I learned how to train my dog from the best trainer I have ever known and the really great thing is that I can teach you everything I learned.

Love,

Kevin
